Chicago-Naperville-Elgin is one of the largest metros in the nation. The Chicago-land area is bounded to the east by Lake Michigan, expands over a 5,000-square-mile region in northeastern Illinois and extends into Wisconsin and Indiana. The metro houses 9.5 million people and comprises 14 counties. The city of Chicago contains 2.7 million residents.

The greatest growth during the past 20 years occurred in the western portion of the region. In recent years, however, businesses have been relocating back into the city to attract young workers, supporting the development of high-rise residential and office towers in downtown Chicago.

The metro has one of the biggest economies in the nation, and is buoyed by its distribution, finance, manufacturing operations and growing high-tech sectors. The number of corporate headquarters in Chicago is second only to New York City. There are 35 Fortune 500 companies based locally. The Chicago metro employs 4.6 million workers in an array of industries, including the growing tech and logistics sectors.

The area is a major global tourist and convention destination. More than 50 million people visit the metro annually and support approximately 500,000 jobs in the leisure and hospitality sector. Large tech firms, such as Amazon and Google, attract a wide array of startup companies. The workforce is considered one of the most diverse and well trained among major United States metros.
